

FAFC Interaction and Questions

1. What stood out the most to you in the message?
2. On a scale from 1-10 (10 being the most), what interest do you have in politics? Has it increased or decreased in recent years? Why do you think government and politics should be important to Christians? Does it make a difference?
3. There has been a recent secular surge injected into politics including the removal of God in some cases. Do you think God matters in politics? What does it mean that the more we give God control in our lives, the less we state needs to have control? The opposite is true. The less God we have in our lives, the more state we will be given control. Would you agree or disagree?
4. Psalm 11:3 says, "When the foundations are being destroyed, what can the righteous do?" Some of the foundational freedoms in our nation are faith, speech, and others. Do you see an attempt to destroy these? Share why you feel that way. What difference does it make to our freedom? What role do Christians play in keeping those foundations?
5. God is the essence of a great governing system. Do you agree or disagree? Why? It is no coincidence that our system has a blessing from God. Look at the six areas mentioned in the message where God is removed. Why do those matter? Take one and talk about the damage it causes to society when not heeded. What does this mean to our nation's need for God? What does that mean with our need for God personally?
